This agreement covers the access and use of the Greenwing Technology Magento Punchout Catalog Extension.

Greenwing Technology agrees to provide the Magento extension as an electronic download for delivery. The software licensee agrees to not modify, tamper or reverse engineer any extension programming code provided by Greenwing Technology.

To use this software the software licensee must also purchase a monthly service from Greenwing Technology.

The software licensee is granted a single software license

Unless prior written consent has been obtained from the Software Owner, the following shall not be allowed.

- The distribution of any source codes, header files, make files, or libraries of the software.
- The software should not be merged, compiled, or copied unless expressed in this agreement.
- Alteration or removal of any notices in or on the software or within the documentation included within the software.
- Any distribution of the software by the Licensee that is not conducted with approval from the Software Provider.
- Disclosure of any source codes pertaining to the software to any additional parties not included in this agreement.
- The Licensee shall not disassemble, decompile or reverse engineer any object code contained within the software.
- The number of licenses being used may at no point and time be more than the number of licenses purchased through this agreement.

Warranties

All software included in this source code license agreement as well as all documentation included with said software is provided in an "as is" condition.

The Software Provider agrees to correct any such errors in a timely manner, after which the Licensee shall accept the source code for use pursuant to the terms of this agreement.

The Software Provider makes no guarantee as to the source code's performance once it has been accepted by the Licensee.

Liability

Under no circumstances will either party or their representatives be liable to each other for any incidental, consequential, or indirect damages including but not limited to lost or damaged data, revenue loss, economic loss, or commercial loss arising out of a breach of any terms and conditions set forth in this source code license agreement.

This limitation of liability shall apply regardless of if the alleged breach is a fundamental breach or fundamental term.

Both parties are in understanding that some jurisdictions do not allow the exclusion of liability for consequential damages and as so the above limitation may not apply.